

eThORITY® to Feature Reporting and Analytics Platform at KualI Days 2011

Equifax Company Enhances KualI Financial System With Interactive Dashboards and Personalized Reports

CHARLESTON, S.C. (November 14, 2011) – eThORITY, now a part of Equifax and a leader in business analytics solutions for higher education, announced today its participation in KualI Days 2011. eThORITY will showcase its unique ability to bring powerful, easy-to-use data interaction, reporting and dashboarding to “open-sourced community” institutions.

eThORITY provides expertise in business analytics with extensive domain expertise in higher education. The eThORITY Enterprise platform offers an easily integrated, state-of-the-art analytics solution that helps colleges and universities derive the most value from their ERP and other systems, including KualI’s open-source administrative software.

“KualI Financial System continues to gain momentum due to success stories from institutions like Colorado State and the University of Arizona,” said Vince Jajuga, vice president of eThORITY Business Development at. “We’re pleased so many KualI Community members see the value in both our approach to technology and the quality and knowledge of our people.”

“We obtained consulting support from eThORITY as we prepared for the reporting side of the KFS go-live. We found the eThORITY team educational and inspiring,” said Hank Childers, Project Director of Enterprise Systems Replacement, University of Arizona. “Their knowledge around KualI architecture as well as financial reporting and data modeling impressed us and helped us to succeed.”

This month, eThORITY kicks off a system-wide implementation for the University of Hawaii, providing a turn-key solution for KFS reporting, analytics and budgetary planning needs. With the launch of KFS just around the corner, UH will benefit from the speed at which eThORITY can be deployed by allowing them to simultaneously deploy their analytics and reporting environment.

By partnering with firms committed to supporting KualI projects, eThORITY approaches each implementation with a wealth of experience in the KualI community. Learn more about how eThORITY reporting and analytics can empower KualI financial reporting at KualI Days 2011, “Empowering the Community” in Indianapolis, November 14th-16th.
